Natural Antioxidants

Pet owners demand natural ingredients in pet food products, and Oxy-Gon® can help you meet this demand while maintaining product freshness, taste, quality, and safety. Oxy-Gon® is a food-grade antioxidant made from plant-derived natural extracts. It is used to preserve animal fats, vegetable oils, fat-soluble vitamins, and other materials subject to oxidation.

As a leading supplier of high-performance antioxidant solutions to the pet food and rendering industries, Wilbur-Ellis Nutrition offers a variety of stock liquid and powdered, natural antioxidant blends.

Our technical experts can design and execute studies based on your specific testing needs, help monitor the efficacy of your antioxidant application and meet specific product needs through customized formulations.
